Luang Say Cruise and Lodge Pakbeng (Superior)

Luang Say Mekong Cruises has three boats travelling from Huay Xay to Luang Prabang, or, from Luang Prabang to Huay Xai. Both cruises stop over for one night in our Luang Say Lodge in Pakbeng. The boats are 34 metres long with a 420 HP engine and a steel hull for strength and safety. The boats have a capacity for 40 people in comfortable seats and benches. Each seat has an open air vista. There are also coffee tables with magazines and booklets to read during your cruise. The central section of the Luangsay boats have bench seats, a perfect spot for a game of cards, to share your Mekong stories, or to have lunch. Each cruise departure has both a French and English speaking guide who are able to answer your questions and point out any sights of interest along the way. They also have a fearless captain, a qualified mechanic and a boat boy. On board they have two western style toilets, one at the back of the boat and one next to the bar in the central section. Life jackets are available in a variety of sizes including childrens sizes. There are also rails around the sides of the boat for safety. Luggage can be stored overnight in a large compartment underneath the deck where it can be locked away.
